

Proclamation from Mayor Schroeder

Mayor Connie Schroeder presented the School Board with a Proclamation approved by the Bastrop City Council honoring the contributions of African Americans to our country's history. The proclamation declared February as Black History Month in Bastrop. Thank you Mayor Schroeder!

Character Education

Savannah Moore from Cedar Creek Intermediate School spoke to the Board on the character trait of justice. She spoke about her brother who graduated from CRCA and is now a student at Texas Tech University. She learned about justice from watching how his teachers treated him and gave him opportunities to be successful. She said it's important that all students are treated fairly and given an equal chance to be successful at school and in life. Very true indeed! (The picture of Savannah did not come out very well unfortunately. You'll have to trust us she was super cute and very articulate.)

Recognition of Students/Staff

Not all students who were being recognized were able to attend last night's board meeting due to other commitments, but a few were on hand. In FINE ARTS, CCMS teacher Elizabeth Winslow had several students qualify for the TMEA All-Region Choir. Gianna "Gigi" Del Bosque was able to attend. In ATHLETICS, Director Andy Sexton spoke about CCHS Senior Cade Edwards (not pictured) for achievements in football. He earned All State, as well as numerous other accolades. Coach Sexton also highlighted three BHS students who earned Academic All State. Pictured below are seniors Mark Currie, Desmond Young, and Payton Parsons. In CAREER & TECH, several BHS students qualified for state competition in April in SkillsUSA. With teachers James Cunningham and Derryck Hedley are students Mynor Faena, Mason Escamilla, and Alex Olmos.
